STARTS TO BOIL
IN THE COUNTY

New Candidates Entering Field for Various and

Sundry Positions

The political pot in Palm Beach county quit sizzling and started actual boiling this week as more aspirant candidates announced their intentions to run for office. Of interest in the Lake region this week is the announcement of John T. Pickett of Canal Point. Pickett is a candidate for county commissioner from the thirty-first district. Mr. Pickett seeks the place held by Doyle Crocker, whose announcement will be forthcoming soon.

It is believed throughout the county that the majority of the county officeholders will seek re-Sherriff and the race for sherriff is being held in the town of Lawrence. Sherriff "Hil" Lawrence has not announced but it is conceded that he will be a candidate to succeed him. R. L. (Jack) Baker will oppose him. Both gentlemen are well known throughout every part of the county and the race should prove an interesting one.

At the present time there are four or five candidates for tax collector. The record holder is the name of four. The incumbent, Tom Campbell, has not as yet formally announced, but it is believed that he will be a candidate to succeed himself. John O'Bannon, S. O. Sproul and M. E. Gruber are announced candidates for the position of school superintendent. Joe A. Youngblood, will have opposition in his race this spring in the person of John J. Leonard of Palm Beach. The Gruber superintendent registration, will be opposed if it

For clerk of the circuit court there have been no official announcements as yet for tax assessor there have been none. In the clerk's office Geo. O. Butler will in all probability offer for re-election as will Mr. Owens in the assessor's office.

The announcements of Paul Rardin of Canal Point and Herbert Beck of Belle Glade last week for representative constitute the list for that position at the present time. Other announcements are expected momentarily for the positions sought by Rardin and Beck.

March 1 Deadline For City License

In Belle Glade

At a meeting of the city council in Belle Glade Wednesday night it was ordered that those who do not pay city licenses by March 1, will be classed as operating a place of business without license. An ordinance covers this particular offense and carries a penalty with it. Mayor Harris has instructions from the council to enforce the ordinance.

A TRUE BUSINESS PASSES

Readers and friends interested of the Lake Okeechobee region have lost a true and loyal friend. The sudden passing of James B. Jeffries took from our midst a man who has been ever loyal and faithful in his efforts to render an efficient service to those he served. As head of the Everglades Drainage district and South Florida Conservancy district he probably did more than any one man to bring order out of chaos. It was through his guidance and under his direction that worthwhile accomplishments have been made in the two districts.

With relatives living in the Lake region Mr. Jeffries spent much of his time with them, thus enabling him to perform his duties in connection with drainage operations. His face was familiar to hundreds of residents in the Lake region who know that to fill his place will be difficult.

While returning to his family in Miami last Saturday night his life was snuffed out, in an automobile accident. The exact which the accident occurred is not known. A slippery road, proved fatal to him. A slippery road, proved fatal to him. A slippery road, proved fatal to him.

To his hundreds of friends and many relatives in this section there is solace in knowing that his was a job well done.

Announcement has been made of a Standard Training school to be conducted in the Pahokee Methodist church during the first week in March. Interesting subjects have been announced and a group of efficient and interesting teachers have been secured to conduct the classes. Pahokee, Belle Glade and Canal Point Methodist churches are co-operating in the conduct of the school. The building should be filled to capacity every night.

For the splendid manner in which the stretch of highway between Canal Point and the Martin county line is being repaired some one is due thanks. For years people of the Lake region have wanted the road repaired and now that it is nearing completion we have an outlet to the north. The road is a beautiful piece of work, and when completed will render easy access to the great Lake region via Okeechobee City.

On Tuesday night a slight frost again descended upon the vegetable gardens in the Lake Okeechobee region. Between 10 and 20 percent loss is the estimate but Glades growers cannot be hating in their efforts to put a fully matured crop on the market. Day in and day out with that tenacious fighting spirit they go forward with work—never once being turned back in their efforts to bring

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

Gasparilla! Floats! Flags! Bands! Noise! Noise! Noise! And as the fun and frolic and maddest goes on—don't think it's all gold and glitter, for 'way up in an obscure corner of a dreary office there sits a poor dumb steno wonder' what's happened to the daily of "Too Late to Classify" and know' he might as well "skip it" for if the pirates haven't tied him to a post—or something—the N. B. C. has.

But it's Monday again—and as I've said before "The column MUST go out"—or out. It was pretty tough when you had to pinch-hit for the man when he goes running off to New York, but when he's right in this very town and practically within a stone's throw (and if I had one—I would)—and you still know he's just a total loss as far as writing this column is concerned—it's hard to take.

Bill Dicks of the National Farm and Home Hour comes breezing in from Chicago and says "Russell, you gotta broadcast the landin' of Gasparilla from the top of a city skyscraper—then the parade from the same point"—and how are you gonna resist a guy like Bill?

Anyway, it's Gasparilla. Day and I'm just makin' the best of it, but every time I hear those whistles blow which means Mr. Joe Gasparilla is out in Old Tampa Bay doin' his stuff—don't think ONE person isn't turned up. "But" David of Lallo City was in town "often-a-bet-man-ning" and I tried to with this job into his hands, but he said he didn't want to give Russell too much to live up to—so that was out. George Burr from Winter Haven is around here somewhere I suppose, lookin' at the pretty mermaids on the floats, and I know that he's HIM out. Say Nate Brooking of Sebring, but I bet two bits he's tryin' to shove George out of his parking spot. So I'm about to decide these newspaper columnists just ain't what they're cracked up to be when Mr. and Mrs. Gasparilla are puttin' on their show. I'm sure of one thing tho'! Old Mother Nature sure did her best to put on this gala day, and in spite of wicked clouds and a smattering of rain yesterday, the silver lining came bustin' thru today in a big way and thousands of out-of-staters are marveling at this warm sunshine and bays' PLENTY of postcards to mail back home to Aunt Sadie and Cousin Charlie "weshin you were here!" And if I suppose there'll even be a lot who'll want to shed the cold and show their up-state friends a picture of how "I'm warm in my shirt-sleeves."

Now wouldn't you know anyone works around Russell Kay's office would have to do a little Florida lullaby-ino' before they signed off?

But that's not all. I can still see some paper behind the roll in my Royal and that means there's plenty more yet to be said. I might write an ode or a couple sonnets that would fill a lot of space quick, but I'm afraid Phil Barney would figure I was stealin' his thunder—and I wouldn't do that.

Another Candidate

TAMPA, Feb. 13.—(FNS)— Another candidate for congress from the new Fifth district became known when J. "Jimmy" Hanks, Jr., of Orlando threw his hat into the ring and announced a strong nine-point platform, which Mr. Hanks stated "summarized my stand on problems we now face. However, our citizens are coming to realize that unpredictable problems and changing conditions will face every congressman so that not only the nine-point platform but the record, reputation and character of the candidate also must be known to determine the score of representation that may be expected in Washington."

Mrs. S. E. Campbell entertained the immediate family at a birthday dinner in honor of Mr.
Campbell on Sunday. Guests were three sons, Jesse, Sheldon and Brenton Campbell, and two grandchildren, Shirley and Noel Campbell.

Several new heaters have been received from the county board of education by Principal Ned Koob-er and installed in the various rooms in anticipation of the Orrin W. Manning of Bean City recently commented on the expedition and comparative safety of foot passenger traffic over the highway bridges across the main canals in this region since the installation of foot bridges along the sides of each of the main bridges and congratulated the road department on an excellent piece of work.

Miss Lillie Mae Corbett, and Adolph Driggers visited friends in Pahokee on Sunday.

Frank Haines of Ritta Island has ordered a consignment of 100 watercock chicks to supplement his poultry flock, which he raises for market. Mr. Haines reports that the chickens from the late spring flock now on hand will hit the scales at from 7 to 8 pounds and are excellent layers.

The event of the week among the younger set was a dance at the J. L. Mathis home at which Charlie and John Billy Mathis were followed by refreshments served at the cafe. Those enjoying the event were: June Goodbread, William and Vernie Boots, Elsie Mae Williams, Louise and Betty Rawle, Dick and Red Miller, Mary Chalcin, Mastine Mathis, a number of guests from neighboring organizations.

A number of local people, among them Mr. and Mrs. W. M.
Jeffries and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Allen, G. J. Barlow, R. Y. Pattenson, J. E. Beardsley motored to Miami Monday to attend the funeral services for James D. Jeffries, who was accidentally killed in an automobile crash on the lower East Coast Saturday night.

Jeffries was the chairman of the South Florida Conservancy District and is considered by local citizens to have been one of the best friends the Everglades possessed. He was for a number of years connected with the development of Lake Harbor and a resident of that community and had worked untingly for many years at the problem of securing adequate drainage for this great area. His mother, Mrs. Clara Jeffries, had resided with him at various times both at Lake Harbor and in Miami, dividing her time when in Florida between his home and that of his brother, W. M.

Jeffries and family of South Bay.
She preceded him in death by only a few months, having passed away after a lingering illness in Miami during the fall. His widow is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
James B. Scullen of Belle Glade.

A full program was presented in honor of Founders Day at the session of the Parent-Teachers association on Monday evening at the school auditorium, the high light of which was the address by John I. Leonard of Palm Beach on the subject, "Co-operation and Parent-Education." A number of guests from neighboring organizations were present, having been especially invited to hear Mr. Leonard speak.

Other features of the program included:

Assembly singing, "America the Beautiful."

Prayer, Mrs. Irene Frame.
Violin solo, Miss Ann Wail, music instructor.

Talk on "The Teacher in Our Public Schools," Mrs. G. J. Barlow.
